The End of VOL. XXIII.

On Thurſday the 10th of Jan. about one o'clock at noon, after a lingering illneſs of three years, died the ingenious and laborious Mr Edward Cave, the firſt projector of the Magazine, of which he lived to ſee three and twenty volumes ſucceſsfully compleated, notwithſtanding all the oppoſition that could be made by rival intereſts inflamed to malevolence by conſciouſneſs of piracy, and which the preſent proprietors hope to continue with the ſame ſpirit and the ſame ſuperiority.

(May Succeſs attend.)
